One of our finer points on decorative accessories is high style, and our Small Nickel Decorative Mace has this in spades. Made of cast brass that has been treated to an antique nickel finish, this symbol of the Middle Ages with its black granite base is an edgy composition with loads of patina. Place this decorative sculpture on a tabletop tableau to bring a touch of whimsical sophistication to a space or top a stack of books with it to make a stylistic point. We offer this sculpture in several sizes and finishes.
