Though it strikes a timeless stance, our Peele Pendant has an industrial chic flair that brings it into the modern era. The time-honored nod to a day when design was more traditional is the antique brass finish on the metal and the seeded glass globes surrounding the light source. The more modern aspects of this pendant include the way it is fastened to the stem, the design of the stem itself and the bottom finial. We also offer the Peele in a multi-pendant.
